Home Learning Grid Week Two

Number of the Day For Health and Wellbeing this week can you Choose a number each day, it can be have a go at filling in the emotions check-in two, three or four-digits. Use the every day this week. It is just like the number of the day template in your home emotions check in we do each day in class learning packs (this is also on teams and where you pick an emotion to represent on the blog) and use your chosen how you feel that day. It just lets me know number to complete the activities. how you are all getting on and I can checkin with anyone who needs it 😊 This week's brain challenge: Which one of these is the odd number out and why? I will add the link for the emotions check-in to the team's page and the blog. 246 372 134 957 Never Too Young Sumdog Challenges This week in our video call we read all about I have set a maths, grammar and Adele Ann Taylor and her aim to encourage children to read

This week I would love for us to start our own reading challenge to see how many books we can read. I have added a reading record to Teams where we can record all the books we have read. I would also like you to complete a book review for one of the books you have read. We can then add these to the Teams site and people can have a look at them when deciding which book to read next!

spelling challenge for you on Sumdog for this week. You have all week to complete them so you can spread them out and do them over a few days.

If you need login details or help with access to Sumdog just let me know.

Mrs Ewen's Musical Activities

Here is the link to lots of music themed activities that Mrs Ewen has set for YOU: https://padlet.com/MrsE Music/TXMusic alJanuary.

Have a look at them and pick one or two to try for this week. Make sure to share what you get up to with Mrs Ewen through email or through twitter.

As we are taking on our reading challenge this week and trying to read more, for art we are going to make our own corner bookmarks to help us keep track of our reading!

I have added the links to the YouTube videos with all the instructions on how to make these to the Teams page and the blog.
